I certify that full credit can be given to the statements made in the accompanying paper signed by Andrew Rosborough. There is no doubt whatever that Henry Rosborough willed his sister Jane should get all his effects in case of his death, as I have testified to that fact already, many weeks ago. I consider this delay in disposing of his effects most unaccountable, and it is not fair that his, the said Henry's, wishes have not been carried out long ere this. If there is further provoking delay, I must lodge a formal complaint in the matter.
